Dearest Family,

It's always a pleasure to write you another Newsletter as we always like to keep you informed about what we are doing with our lives. We also and always want to appreciate you for your support towards us and to extend our sincere thanks and gratitude. Months back Mrs Kouris visited us and we were together for a week though it was a short visit but we do appreciate her being around since it has taken about two years no sponsor visited us. Her presence alone has brought some sense of belongingness especially to those children who are total orphans. At least it's left them with a print that someone or some people thousand of miles away do care for them, their needs and well being.

For this very special thought you have left in our minds we say thank you.

Now saviour of the World can boast of children who are 18yrs or over and we are on training process for them to take over key positions in the home with a form of salary for their well-being. Steven is going to be our secretary as he will be responsible to attend all meetings and seminars, take minute of every meeting, while I will supervise to make sure everything is in place. Abu is going to be our social worker visiting every child that has gone outside the home and also children who are staying outside the home to know their well being and how they are fearing up. ISATU karg-bo will be our receptionist on week ends.

For the first time in eleven years saviour of the World has got an outside office thanks to God for my sister and husband for their Initiative and support to see that Saviour of the World survives. The office building is actually finished but we need a desk top computer and a printer but besides we have finished the building and fittings. Mrs Kouris was around the time we were doing the final painting of the office.

Now schools are reopened I want to say a very big thanks for your support in the school fees and school items I want to really tell you how much we appreciate not only your support but You as a person as well. By early next year we are planning to build a house in the compound for children who have gone out of the program but when they do face crisis times they run back to the home for solace those children we cannot take them back in to the main house because they are already adults and they may have experienced a new way of life so we are planning on building a space for them were they will say until they recover from what bugging them then they will go out and continue their lives. I want to say thanks to God and to you to give me the chance and opportunities to work with these children in other to give them a new life, a new hope and to share the love and blessings of our Lord and Saviour to them. I pray may your charity never go in vain may you be called blessed, may our Mother Mary always continue to intercede for us all and more especially you and your family.

Jesus Among Us

Dear Brothers and Sisters of the Savior of the World Family,

May the Peace of our Lord Jesus be with you, now and always!

Dearest friends, I write this brief message the day after Pope Francis has declared Mother Teresa of Calcutta a canonized saint of the Catholic Church. Indeed today, September 5th, is her feast day on the liturgical calendar.

One could say that St. Teresa of Calcutta awakened the world to the presence of Jesus among us: Jesus really present in the Eucharist as a Gift of Love for all who would receive Him, and Jesus really present in the poorest of the poor as One who is hungry and thirsty for our gift of love. Mother Teresa would do everything possible to bring the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass and hence to bring the Body and Blood of Jesus to places and peoples that were not recognizing God's Gift of Love in Jesus Christ.

There was one day in Calcutta when Mother told me to prepare to go with her on an airplane to the ex-Communist country of Albania. She wanted to accompany me because she knew that the country had been fiercely anti-Catholic. The country's dictator, who had just recently died, Enver Hoxhia, had executed all the bishops and the majority of priests. This same dictator had been prone to prepare the bishops and priests for their executions by torturing them quite maliciously. Now his personal medical doctor was the one in charge of the country; and I was about to enter this country – alone. But Mother Teresa wanted to stay with me for a little time so that I would have a good idea how to maneuver on this very strange and arid soil.

What was special about this day when we were to get on the plane for a very menacing country was not the country itself. Rather it was what the saint told me to do before boarding the plane. She said, “Father, we still have five minutes. There is a Moslem man here who wants to marry a Catholic woman, but he doesn't believe in the Blessed Trinity. Since we still have five minutes, explain the Blessed Trinity to him and then we can go.”

The Moslem man did in fact accept my explanation that God is Love, and that because he is Love itself he is a perfect communion of three persons: the Father gives Himself totally to the Son so that the Son is as fully God as the Father. The Son in gratitude gives himself fully to the Father so that the Father is as fully God as the Son. And the bond of this Love is the perfect Wisdom and bond of Unity that by his power to unite is fully God. The man became Christian; and together with his Christian wife, became the father of a new family.

St. Teresa of Calcutta made Jesus really present in places where people only suspected that Love might be a possibility. She introduced Jesus to the hovels and the alley ways of Nairobi, Manila, Kinshasa, Tirana, Macao, Kigali, Bujumbura, Chicago, Gary and New York.

The poorest of the poor who never knew Jesus now know Jesus as the Giver of eternal gifts: baptism, confession, confirmation, the Eucharist. I myself saw what happens when a Moslem victim of rebels in West Africa meets Jesus, accepts Jesus, and embraces Jesus with a Christian love. The only reason he is not dead is because he jumped an inch or two when a rebel shot him. The bullet that should have killed him, lodged harmlessly in a thick tissue of his stomach. The Moslem man is now a priest. Since his original name is Mohammed, some call him “Father Mohammed.” He prefers his Christian name of Father Philip.

The busiest market place in the world is in Hong Kong: the noisiest neighborhood for a Missionaries of Charity convent is in the middle of the Hong Kong market place. That's right: they are not outside but inside the noisiest market place in the world. Jesus has chosen to live amidst the buyers and sellers so that they too may become temples of the Holy Spirit.

St. Teresa of Calcutta knew that God's infinite desire to give his very own Body and Blood to the human race matched an ever-growing desire in the desolate, the desperate, the lonely, the humiliated, the rejected, the abandoned, the unloved and the unwanted – all those whose only home is the empty stall of a marketplace – to find a “Somebody” who would finally respect them and welcome them with a love so real that they could trust that this “Somebody” could give them a purpose that lasts forever.

May all of you, dear readers, accept the tender, faithful love of the Somebody who created you, saved you, and gives purpose to your life: it is Jesus Christ Himself!
